Extension Activities

Foreshadowing Poster: Create a movie poster demonstrating an instance of foreshadowing from a book you've read. You can start by looking at some of your favorite movies' posters to see how they use foreshadowing. You can draw or create your poster on a device!

Picture It: Create a picture dictionary for each type of foreshadowing. You can create a drawing or an image on a device for each type. Alternatively, you can make an audio dictionary with spoken descriptions of each type! You can use your dictionary to help you with activities in this PDF, and in the future!

Story Remix: Select a story of your choice – ask an adult for help! Pick a scene to rewrite, adding a piece of foreshadowing to hint at the end of your story!

Guided Notes

Guided Notes: While you are watching the video, fill in the information below for your notes.

Foreshadowing - a tool writers use to give readers _____ or clues about what might happen later in the story

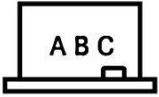

Foreshadowing...

- ...appears in different genres of fiction.
- ...adds _____ and tension to a story.
- ...is most commonly found in the exposition or _____ action.
- ...sometimes happens near the _____ of the story to hint at how the story might resolve.

Type of Foreshadowing	Example
Setting	A storm brewing on the horizon...
Dialogue	"I hope this old tree doesn't fall on the house someday..."
Character's _____, fears, or concerns	A nagging feeling that they're forgetting something...
Repetition of an object, character, or event	An author mentions a locked drawer repeatedly...
Prophecies, _____, or visions	A dream about a mysterious library...

Guided Notes: While you are watching the video, fill in the information below for your notes.

Guess what each quote from Shadows Over Celestia might be foreshadowing. Make a prediction about what might happen later in the story.

“Kai had a special Lumina flower that was known to glow brighter when something unusual was about to happen.”	Based on this quote, I predict...
“One of Magnus’ experiments had once caused a brief power outage in the city, a memory that still unnerved the people of Celestia.”	This quote hints that...

Based on clues in the video, make a prediction about where the treasure map will lead:

Your Turn - Spot the Foreshadowing

DIRECTIONS: Read each description below. Identify which type of foreshadowing it is and what future event it's hinting at!

Description	Type of Foreshadowing	What's it hinting at?
Amara had an eerie feeling that the summer wouldn't be as carefree as she had planned.
Every time Raj walked home, he saw the same black crow watching him. With each step that Raj took, the crow seemed to follow him with its eyes. Raj didn't know where the crow came from, but every day it was there.
"Be careful with that vase, Ling," her grandmother warned. "It's been in our family for generations, and we don't want anything to happen to it."
The old swing creaked ominously in the deserted playground, its rusty chains swinging in the cold wind.
After the third night of dreaming about the old oak tree falling, Mateo started to wonder if these dreams were more than his imagination.

Lesson Reflection

DIRECTIONS: Consider what you have learned from today's video lesson. Follow the directions in the spaces below and answer each question. You may answer each section by drawing, writing, or talking to a loved one about your answer.

While completing this lesson, I felt...

If I could sum up today's lesson in three words, they would be...

A question I still have is...

I could use what I learned today in my own life by...

Day 2

Warm-Up: Foreshadowing BINGO

DIRECTIONS: Fill in the Bingo card with each foreshadowing technique – you must use each at least once. This week, as you read books or watch movies and TV shows, look for foreshadowing. When you find an example, record it on your Bingo card! Complete a line across, up and down, diagonally, or in all four corners to win!

Shadows Over Celestia: The Prequel...

DIRECTIONS: Read the prequel, the story that happens before Shadows Over Celestia, below. Remember to highlight or underline any key details as you read, including foreshadowing!

In a small village on the edge of a dense, dangerous forest lived two uniquely talented children, Zara and Kai. Zara, an expert at fixing things and understanding machines, had a curiosity that was boundless. Kai, on the other hand, was a master of growing plants, making anything bloom with just a touch.

One day, into their world entered a mysterious man carrying unusual tools and odd blueprints. His strange devices and tales of a city high in the sky filled Zara's mind with wonder. Each time the man spoke of this lofty city, Zara's eyes sparkled with fascination. She started imagining a world where she could put her mechanical skills to good use, living among airships and metal buildings.

At the same time, Kai discovered an odd, glowing seed in the forest. He planted it and carefully tended to it, and soon it blossomed into a flower of striking beauty, radiant in the night. Kai named it the Lumina, after the luminescent stars in the sky. Curiously, each time the mysterious man came to tell his stories, the Lumina flower's glow intensified. It was as if the flower, too, was excited by these tales. Kai wondered if this strange plant held a message of what was to come.

The more the mysterious man visited, and the more his sky-city took shape in Zara's dreams and Kai's thoughts, the brighter the Lumina flower shone. The whole village started to feel a sense of anticipation sparked by the man's passionate stories, the Lumina's glow, and the children's excitement.

The mysterious man, Zara, and Kai didn't yet realize how deeply connected they would be in the grand adventure that awaited them. Their village was just a dot on the edge of the forest now, but soon, it would become a beacon high above the clouds, a testament to their dreams and their destiny.
